Lieutenant General Troup Miller, Jr.
Commander, Air University
United States Air Force
Maxwell Air Force Base, Alabama

Dear Troup:

It is a real pleasure for me to accept your invitation of 26 September to address the War College of the Air University on 17 November. The subject, "The Role of Intelligence in the Formulation of National Security Policy," is very important, and I am honored you have asked me to deal with it.

Speech-making aside, I shall look forward to visiting Maxwell again and to seeing you.

My executive assistant, Mr. [ ] will be in touch directly with the Air University to make detailed arrangements for my visit.

Dear Pearre

It is a pleasure to invite you to visit Air University on 17 November 1961 and to address the War College on the subject "The Role of Intelligence in the Formulation of National Security Policy."

This lecture is one of the important presentations in the "Formulation of National Security Policy" phase of study which will be conducted during the period 13 November 1961 to 19 January 1962. We feel that you are singularly qualified to treat this vital topic and we would be honored to have you address the student body on this occasion.

A draft copy of our instruction circular is attached to indicate for you in more detail the contribution this lecture is expected to provide to this particular phase of the curriculum. One fifty-minute lecture period, followed by a fifty-minute discussion period, has been reserved for the presentation.

It is a custom of the College to include biographical sketches of our distinguished speakers in the formal instruction circular; consequently, a form pertinent to the information desired is inclosed for your convenience.

We are deeply grateful for your continued support of our program and are looking forward to having you with us in November.

Sincerely

TROUP MILLER, JR
Lieutenant General, USAF
Commander
